
ELLEN M. NYE

ellen.nye@yale.edu • Yale University • Department of History • New Haven, CT • 06511

EDUCATION:

Yale University

New Haven, Connecticut

PhD in History

May 2022

- Studying the formation and implementation of economic policies relating to Anglo-Ottoman trade to revise the concepts of British mercantilism and Ottoman provisionalism.
- Supervised by Alan Mikhail and Steve Pincus

Clare Hall, Cambridge University

Cambridge, U.K.

M.Phil. in Social and Economic History

August 2015

First-Class Honors with Distinction

- Examined state restrictions on monetary flows and their enforcement in 18th-century Anglo-Ottoman trade under the co-supervision of Kate Fleet (Newnham College) and Craig Muldrew (Queens' College).
- Coursework Included: core concepts in economic history, British industrialization, the history of economic thought, development in historical perspective, statistical analysis, database design, and Turkish tutorials.

Dartmouth College

Hanover, New Hampshire

A.B. with double major in History and Middle Eastern Studies

June 2014

Graduated Magna Cum Laude with High Honors in History

- Awarded Peter J. Reichard prize for best history senior honors thesis, for her work, "Shivering in Silk: The East India Company's Trade in Safavid Persia and Changing Royal Policy, 1600-1709."
- Inducted into the Phi Beta Kappa Society in recognition of a record of academic excellence in the liberal arts, an honor awarded to the top 10% of graduating students.
- Coursework Included: British and Middle Eastern history, Arabic, art history, government, and English literature.

HONORS AND AWARDS:

Fulbright Research Fellowship

Istanbul, Turkey

- Examining the consumption of foreign goods in the 18th-century Ottoman Empire. September 2015-June 2016
- Working in association with the American Research Institute in Turkey and the Boğaziçi History Faculty.

DAAD Research Fellowship

Berlin, Germany

- Awarded funding to analyze Anglo-German competition in the Ottoman textile market. 2015-2016 (Declined)

Peter J. Reichard 1966 Memorial Research Prize

June 2014

- Dartmouth College award for the best undergraduate history thesis for her work, "Shivering in Silk: The East India Company's Trade in Safavid Persia and Changing Royal Policy, 1600-1709."
- Delivered Dartmouth College's 2015 Annual Reichard Lecture alongside Rudi Mathee (University of Delaware)

Richard B. McCornack Prize for Excellence in History

June 2014

- Dartmouth College award for the student with the best academic record in history continuing their studies at the graduate level.