

Thinking Language: Wilhelm von Humboldt now

A Symposium at Queen Mary, University of London
Funded by British Academy/Leverhulme

Date: 29 April 2016

Venue: Lockkeeper's Cottage, QMUL

(East Gate – 150 yards straight into the campus, then on the right hand side)

Thinking Language: Wilhelm von Humboldt now

A Symposium at Queen Mary, University of London

Funded by British Academy/Leverhulme

Date: 29 April 2016

Venue: Lockkeeper's Cottage, QMUL

(East Gate – 150 yards straight into the campus, then on the right hand side)

- 9.30-11 Marko Pajević (London): Welcome and Introduction
- Chair and respondent: David Nowell Smith (East Anglia)
- John E. Joseph (Edinburgh): Wilhelm von Humboldt's Reception in the Anglosphere, 1820-present
- 11 Coffee Break
- 11.30-1.15 Chair and respondent: James W. Underhill (Rouen)
- Jürgen Trabant (Berlin): Vanishing Worldviews
- Ute Tintemann (Berlin): Collecting Language Data: from Humboldt
 to the Language Archive
- 1.15 Lunch Break
- 2.30-4.15 Chair and respondent: Marko Pajević (London)
- James W. Underhill (Rouen): Humboldt in Translation Theory.
 Pearls of wisdom, or splashes in the ocean?
- Barbara Cassin (Paris): Humboldt, Translation, and the Dictionary of Untranslatables
- 4.15 Coffee Break
- 4.30-6.15 Chair and respondent: Jürgen Trabant (Berlin)
- John Walker (London): Wilhelm von Humboldt and Dialogical
 Thinking
- Marko Pajević (London): Humboldt's 'thinking language': Poetics and Politics
- 6.15 Wine-reception

ALL WELCOME!