

Workshop Program

Monday, May 27

- 09:00-09:30 h Registration
- 09:00-09:30 h Welcome
- 10:00-11:00 h “One-Minute-Madness”
- 11:00-13:00 h What is Network Science?
- 13:00-14:00 h Lunch
- 14:00-17:00 h Group Work (supported by Martin Stark, Geert Kessels, and Pim van Bree)
- 17:00-18:00 h Concluding Discussion
- 19:00 h Wine and Dine

Tuesday, May 28

- 09:00-09:20 h Geert Kessels and Pim van Bree (LAB1100): New Analytical Features in nodegoat
- 09:20-09:40 h Jan Lotz (University of Luxembourg): Trade and Transport Networks in the Provinces of Gaul and Germania During the Roman Empire (27 BC–AD 301).
- 09:40-10:00 h Giuditta Parolini (Technische Universität Berlin): Using Network Analysis to Investigate the History of Agricultural Meteorology
- 10:00-10:20 h Jean-Paul Rehr (Université Lumière Lyon 2): Network Analysis of Accusations of Heresy in Early Inquisition Registries

- 10:20-10:40 h Coffee break
- 10:40-11:00 h Pablo Galaso (Universidad de la Republica): Testing Networks' Resilience: The Impact of Institutional Shocks on Spanish Emerging Innovation Networks (1878-1939)
- 11:00-11:20 h Wouter Spekkink (University of Manchester): Dealing With Fragmented Data in Qualitative Analysis of Social Processes
- 11:20-11:40 h Ma Zhaoyi (Tianjin University): A New Perspective of Novels as Historical Materials: See Chang'an city through the spatially-embedded network of characters in The Tale of Li Wa
- 11:40-12:00 h Coffee break
- 12:00-12:20 h Marc Matten and Renée Krusche (FAU Erlangen-Nürnberg): Nuclear Networks of Cold War Era China
- 12:20-12:40 h Andreas Enderlin (Johannes Kepler Universität Linz): The Emperor's Desk between the Empire and the Citizen and in between Vienna and the Global
- 12:40-13:00 h Cindarella Petz (TU München): Networks of Political Judiciary in the Corporate State of Austria
- 13:00-14:00 h Lunch
- 14:00-14:20 h Alexander Fantalkin and Oren Tal (Tel Aviv University): Discussing the Assyrian Imperial Network in the Southern Levant
- 14:20-14:40 h Kate Tuley (University of Minnesota): Extensive Networks of Christian and Muslim Client Rulers in the Levant
- 14:40-15:00 h Coffee break
- 15:00-15:30 h Kick-off for Discussion: Objects as Actors? Fragmentary Data – fragmentary networks? Concepts and Cultures?
- 15:30-17:00 h Plenary Session
- 17:00-18:00 h Discussion, Conclusion, and Outlook

Venue:

Akademie der
Wissenschaften und der
Literatur | Mainz
Geschwister-Scholl-Str. 2
55131 Mainz

